Financial results

Total turnover in the six-month period to 30 June 2019 increased by 21% to £1.49m (H1 2018: £1.23m). Recurring revenues remained broadly stable in the period at £0.98m (H1 2018: £1.02m). Non-recurring revenues, comprising installation fees, hardware, professional services and capex license fees increased by 140% to £0.51m (H1 2018: £0.21m). As a result, gross profit increased by 22% to £1.39m (H1 2018: £1.14m).

Our reported operating expenses decreased by 5% to £1.68m (H1 2018: £1.78m) reflecting the positive impact our investments have made to date and the operating efficiencies our technical platform is now delivering.

Due to the annual revaluation of certain financial liabilities on the balance sheet, the Group reported a translational loss of £0.01m (H1 2018: £0.04m loss) arising from the depreciation of Sterling comparative to the start of the period. As a result of the above, the loss after tax for the period decreased by 33% to £0.69m (H1 2018: Loss £1.03m).

The net cash outflow from operating activities during the period reduced to £0.46m (H1 2018: £1.42m). At 30 June 2019, the Group had £0.03m cash at bank (30 June 2018: £0.33m) and net debt of £8.85m (30 June 2018: £7.81m). Of this net debt figure, £5.62m is in respect of preference shares, held by InTechnology plc, the Company's largest shareholder. These preference shares are redeemable at par value on 31 December 2020, or, at the Company's discretion, at any earlier date.

The Company completed a placing on 28 August 2019, raising £0.75m before expenses at an issue price of 5p per share. At the same time, InTechnology converted £0.78m of current debt into equity at the 5p issue price, resulting in a total of 30,504,687 new ordinary shares being issued.

Review of Operations

The Board is delighted with the operational progress the Group has made during the first half of the year, with positive momentum developing in each of our target markets of Israel, Africa and the Americas.

In Israel, our bundled solution has sold well during the first half of the year, with notable deals concluded with public utilities, local authorities and government agencies. The bundled solution comprises our full end-to-end proposition including server platform, devices, applications and dispatch console, alongside an embedded perpetual license for use of the service. This has had a positive effect on the Group's cashflow and profitability as we receive margin on the license upfront, as well as separate margin on the hardware that we procure on behalf of the customer. With the IDEN switch-off in Israel scheduled for the end of 2019, the Board anticipates that activity levels should accelerate in the second half of the current financial year.

During the period, we sold and commissioned a new server platform for a major MNO in Colombia, and this will be deployed during the second half of the year, initially for a major transportation group. We understand from our MNO partner that they will use this platform to sell services to other transportation groups, once the first customer has been fully commissioned. During the last 18 months, we have dramatically reduced the cost of ownership for a private system and this deal is a perfect illustration of the types of opportunities that are now opening up as a result.

In South Africa, we have been working with one of our MNO customers on the submission of a tender for the deployment of services across a major government agency. Extensive trials have been running successfully for a number of weeks and we are hopeful that a deal will conclude during the second half. We have a major strategic advantage in Africa given our technical superiority. Cellular infrastructure on this continent is still largely 2G and 3G, and we are currently the only cellular PTT carrier grade market solution that can transition seamlessly across 2G, 3G, 4G and WiFi networks, delivering an uninterrupted service to the end user. As a result, we are engaged with the two leading MNOs in this territory and are currently involved in multiple tenders across government agencies, public authorities and enterprises.

Now that we are offering an end-to-end solution, we are able to ensure that the handsets we offer are optimised to work seamlessly with our applications. To this end, we are constantly reviewing the new low cost rugged PoC handsets that are now emerging as the market expands, to ensure we are in a position to offer our customers the best overall value proposition. Following a recent review, we secured an exclusive deal with a Chinese manufacturer, requiring us to commit to purchasing 5,000 handsets over the first 12 months to maintain such exclusivity. As a result, we have had to increase the handset stock levels and this is one of the reasons we raised additional external funds during August.

Research and Development

As I have highlighted in the past, the barriers to entry for cellular based PTT solution providers like Mobile Tornado into the public safety markets are very high, largely due to the dominant position of the established players offering radio-based solutions that operate on their own, high cost, bespoke infrastructure and handsets. They will not give up their control of these markets easily, but we have demonstrated that, with our constantly improving cellular based solution, we are able to secure public safety contracts, evidenced by certain deals that have closed during the first half of the year. I'm pleased to confirm that this transformative development is being driven across all of our target markets.

We have also been able to achieve this through our continued investment in developing the fastest, most robust, fully functioned, efficient PoC solution on the market. It's worth highlighting again some of the key characteristics of our solution:

- Speed 500 millisecond set up time
- Capacity our dual redundant servers can now be deployed to cater for >200,000 users and our dispatch console can handle 18 independent PTT channels
- Security end-to-end encryption with a different key for each transmission, and new developments to counter the increasing cyber threat
- Functionality/features push to talk/alert/location/message/video, dispatch console and recording are all part of the solution
- Efficiency server/application optimised to ensure device battery consumption minimised

We believe these technical advantages are now being recognised by large organisations within both the public and private sector and utilising our new customers as case studies and references, will significantly enhance our credibility as we make further inroads into the public safety markets.

Funding

We completed a placing for £0.75m in August 2019, to provide the business with additional working capital. This has enabled the Group to build up a small increase in handset stocks and take a more flexible approach when negotiating deals with prospective customers. The £0.30m revolving loan facility with InTechnology plc will also remain in place.

The 2018 Annual Report and Accounts highlighted a significant outstanding receivable with one of our partners. This amount stood at £0.64m as at 31 December 2018 and £0.80m as at 30 June 2019. The Group was hoping to collect the outstanding debt in the short term following an equity investment into said partner. The equity investment was not completed as anticipated, due to the unfavourable capital market environment, and we have been in discussions since then to determine a mutually acceptable way forward. Based on a growing pipeline of new business and our partner's recent move into profitability, I'm pleased to report that we have agreed an acceptable repayment schedule with our partner to settle this debt over a maximum 36-month period with certain accelerated debt repayment opportunities.

Outlook

Our team has delivered an excellent first half. The EBITDAE loss has more than halved to  $\pounds 0.29m$  from  $\pounds 0.64m$  in 2018, driven by stable recurring revenues, a solid performance with our bundled offering in Israel and a new system deployment with our MNO partner in South America.

More importantly, we have competed against major players in the PTT space in highly complex tenders, and won, securing some major strategic customers as a result. I have no doubt that the significantly enhanced credibility we have gained has put us in a strong position as we engage with similar organisations across both the public and private sectors.

We are therefore well placed to further develop our business in each of our target markets. I expect the recurring revenue streams to return to growth in the second half of the current financial year as our efforts across Africa and South America, in particular, begin to gain traction. In Israel, we have a strong pipeline of new deals which we are confident will be developed further as the IDEN shutdown approaches at the end of the current calendar year.

The Board would like to thank those shareholders that supported the recent fundraising and we look forward to the remainder of 2019 and beyond with increasing confidence.
